

Sami peoples winter Luhkka

The luhkka is a traditional article of winter clothing used by the Sami people. It's a cape or poncho, which has been worn outside the winter fur-cout, and covering the top torso of a person's body. The hem coming down to the wearer's elbow or wrist.

Role costume for the outdoor play

Children's outdoor hood combines visibility and warmth. Hood poncho idea started from the Sami peoples luhkka. Children have great imagination, so hood poncho is same time the role costume. The girls are Queens of Hearts and the boys are Bear Kings. Hood poncho is designed for the 3-6 years old children to play in the cold and dark wintertime.

"Two Knights And Maidens"

Once there were two knights and maidens
They'd walk together
Out in the gardens
In all kinds of weather

The knights always pestered the maidens
To love them together
Out in the gardens
And they could watch each other

The maidens had other plans for the two knights
They'd give them potions
And make them see dreams and lights

The knights took the potions gladly
They laughed at their visions
But outside the garden
Tigers smelled them together

The maidens had other plans for the two knights
They'd give them potions
And make them see dreams and lights

The knights only laughed at the tigers
They thought they were visions
Out in the garden
The maidens watched them together

Ah, but for the two knights
Ah, but for maidens
Who gave to them dreams and lights
